Who am I?

I was born on May 31st, 1916, in Houston, Texas. I died on December 20th, 2007, in San Antonio, Texas.

I was dubbed, "The Mother of Tejano Music", an art form that is the uniquely Texas cultural amalgamation of traditional Mexican, Spanish, German, and Czech musical roots. I recorded on numerous labels over the course of my six-decade career of live performing. The aggregate total of my records numbers an estimated 200 different Spanish-language songs on at least 50 LP record albums.

In 1977, I performed at the Inauguration of President Jimmy Carter, as part of the line-up for the Inaugural Folk Dance and Concert. My most well-known tune was "Mal Hombre" (Bad Man), a song I had heard as a child.

She is consistent, keeps vigil, and remains a frontline hero amongst frontline heroes. Yvette is the bedrock of care for our residents. Thank you, Yvette, and congratulations!

April in Review*Holy Rollers

As the weather warms in May, cyclists of both the motor and pedal variety feel the call of the open road. As a response to this urge to cycle, many religious institutions hold a Blessing of the Bikes ceremony. In massive cathedrals like New York City's St. John the Divine, pews and aisles are packed with bikers and spandex-clad cyclists of all religious denominations while the local priest showers attendees with holy water and prayers for a safe and fun bicycling season.

Since 1972, the Blessing of the Bikes has become a ritual each May in Baldwin, Michigan. Over 10,000 motorcyclists and bicyclists congregate at the Baldwin airport for a blessing ceremony. Some churches have added a new twist, inviting wheelchairs, strollers, and skateboards for a Blessing of the Wheels.
